

Cancellation of Waseda Summer Session 2021

We would like to inform you that Waseda University has decided to cancel Waseda Summer Session 2021.

After making an inevitable decision to cancel Waseda Summer Session 2020 due to the impact of COVID-19, we have been working to prepare for and discuss about holding the session in 2021. However, the situation is still unpredictable as the spread of the virus being far from under control and the second state of emergency having been declared for Tokyo. Entry restrictions to Japan seemed to be temporarily lifted last fall, but since the beginning of 2021, entry bans from all countries have once again been applied, making the situation continue to be uncertain.

We assume some of you were not able to participate last year but have been planning to apply this time. We deeply regret to announce the cancellation now especially because we normally announce the opening of application at this time. We have come to the decision in avoiding confusion before the decision becomes too late.

At this moment, we cannot predict how long this impact of COVID-19 will last, but our faculties and staffs are wishing to welcome you in Waseda Summer Session 2022, and until then, we hope you will keep staying safe and healthy.

Waseda Summer Session Team
Center for International Education (CIE), Waseda University